Committee Candidates

KERRY GOODFELLOW

As a seventh-generation resident raising two young children in the village, I care deeply about the future of our community and the role the pub plays at its heart.

I was proud to be part of the original steering committee, supporting media engagement, and I want to continue that work by helping to organise inclusive events, encourage local involvement, and ensure the pub remains a welcoming space for everyone.

Four years ago, I founded Offset PR, a PR and events agency, through which I've built a wide network of contacts across different industries. I'd love to use that experience and those connections to support fundraising, build partnerships, and keep the momentum going.

For me, this is about strengthening community ties, not just for us, but for the next generation growing up here.
